COME FORWARD MISSOURI

"Museuri is the backwoods state of the Union," thus read the charge against the commonwealth in the leading editorial in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Sunday, April 13th. It is also charged in the same editorial that the peants politications and "pivileged interests" are reproasible for this condition.

Of course, the lawmakers enact and codefy the laws of the land for the government of the people. Most of the laws enacted by such legislative bodies are backed by public sentiment.

Misseurt, because of its geographical situation, has been most wonderfully blessed by nature. Situated as it is, neither North nor South, also seems contented to-remain No Man's Land, It can be a Northern state in sentiment and progressiveness or It may remain a Southern state in sentiment and backwoodsness.

While we scree with much of what the Post-Dispatch said on the soldered the lastes.

The trouble with MissourTis, she is too much Southern in sentiment. The populace, elects men to office of their own calibre. Missourf his 'Rece Prajudica written in her Lywa, fashioned after he laws of Mississiph's Alabama and Georgis. Missouri, like the Southern states, is dwarfed by trying to keep a class of its cittiens down inst seeing the philosophy of the late Booker Washington who said, "You cannot keep a man down in a ditch without staying down yourself."

Ramaneber, any state that writes on its statute books undem-cratic and un-American laws, or by santiment denies any of its sittiness the benefit of the natural development of its resources, will always be a backwoods state.

will always be a backwoods state. It has been stated recently that St. Louis is now the "aixth city" of the United States and is being fastly relegated to the eighth city in population. What's the matter with St. Louis? Her eyes are turned Southward. If she would keep pace with the rapid advancement of the times, she must shear face; look to such cities as Detrois, Cheyeland, Now York and Boaton.

Yes, we are willing to join the Post-Dispatch and all the progressive people of Missouri in helping to put her in the advanced class. 'Of course to do this will call for some ascrifice. To do this the Post-Dispatch must stick to certain phrases in its platform written by the late Joseph Pulltzer, 'never afraid to ettack wrong.' "never tolerate injustice."

The world moves on: If a man is in a well starving with a bunch of flowers in each hand, the only logical thing for him to do is to tay down the flowers and climb out.

The wheels of progress are turning fast. Like the anow ball it gathers as it rolls; let Missouri Join the procession, and take for her slogan, "All Men Up and Nose Down." What do you say, Post-Dripatch!

. THE PEOPLE'S HOSPITAL

The drive first twenty-thousand dollars for the People's Hospital at a more which should receive a ready response from the people of this city. The need of such an inatitution is obvious. Some rate was all must suffer she common files of mentioning et aick. There also comes a time when we too shall need the very best attention and specific area. There's no place in St. Loule today, of ferting such service except the People's Hospital. It takes money to rue a hospital of this kind. Self respect and self instructed canadas the support of such an institution. No city in the United States with such a large population is lacking in this most important institution.

What a Challenge to the member of the member of the state with such a large population is lacking in this most important institution.

what a challenge to the manhood and womanhood of a group of the state of people. We must meet this challenge. If you have not subscribed to this fund, do so at once. Go to their present location. There is and Pine and are what they have their for your benefit.
